

Use of Social Determinants of Health Codes for Member Outcomes

February 21, 2018

As part of AHCCCS' efforts in developing a streamlined method of collecting and tracking member outcomes, the use of specific ICD-10 diagnosis codes representing Social Determinants of Health has been identified as a valuable source of information that impacts member health.

The Social Determinants of Health codes identify the conditions in which people are born, grow, live, work, and age. They include factors like:

- Education
- Physical environment
- Social support networks
- Employment
- Socioeconomic status

As appropriate within their scope of practice, providers should routinely screen for and document the presence of social determinants. Any identified social determinant diagnosis codes should be provided on all claims for AHCCCS members in order to comply with state and federal coding requirements. Beginning with dates of service on and after April 1, 2018, AHCCCS will begin to monitor claims for the presence of these codes.

As of October 1, 2017, the following ICD-10 diagnosis codes are defined as Social Determinants of Health codes under ICD10. Please note that Social Determinants of Health codes may be added or updated on a quarterly basis. It's important to remain current in the thorough utilization of these codes.

We have posted a toolkit on our website that includes a sample screening tool in English and Spanish. The toolkit can be accessed at www.care1staz.com > Providers > Practice & Preventive Health Guidelines under the Toolkits header.
